

No 2nd Chances

Just wanted to share a thought as we approach the end of time.

As you may well know now, I do not believe what most churches today preach. That is, the pre-tribulation rapture, a seven-year tribulation, and a future millennial kingdom. Simply because it is not in the Bible.

I believe, as most Christians did for the first eighteen hundred years of Christianity, that Jesus will return at the end of time. No designation of the above doctrines is ever mentioned.

The Bible tells us that we are all here to the very end, and when the wrath of God occurs, if we are still alive as real authentic Christians, no matter where we are, we will be protected by the hand of God but most likely have already ascended to meet Jesus in the air.

Multiple verses say that Jesus ascended to heaven where He rules and reigns over all the universe, far above the heavens. He rules and reigns until His enemies are made a footstool to His throne.

Then He returns, He saves us, and there is judgment. All prophecies are fulfilled, and we go to be with our Lord forever and ever in that place He went to prepare when He left. All prophecy will be completed when Jesus returns, whether we are aware of it or not.

Nowhere in the Bible does it say there is a future millennium. In fact, it says there will be one kingdom, never plural, only one, and that one began after He rose in victory from the grave.

The millennium is a measurement of time. When Jesus returns, there is no more time. Therefore, God would have to recreate time. Peter says that after Jesus returns, all the planets and the heavens will be destroyed.

Here is an additional verse that supports the fact that when Jesus returns, sin is destroyed, and we all go to be with Christ forever and ever.

Ephesians 4:11 Jesus ascended up far above all heavens, that He might fulfill all things.

All things are fulfilled before Jesus returns.

Warned numerous times not to be deceived, the early Christians of the past two centuries were oblivious to the satanic deceptions. It was the Synagogue of Satan, as Jesus called them, who financed the Scofield Bible. The deception was further inserted into this Bible as a second chance doctrine.

The pre-tribulation rapture doctrine is a second chance doctrine. It has sent many people, who may have become Christians, to believe that if the rapture happens and they are left behind, they still have a second chance for salvation, so their commitment to a radical transformation is not genuine nor visible.

These people have been lost because of a lack of commitment to seek the truth, believing the lie that there are second chances. When Jesus says, "Depart from me, I don't know you," you are gone for eternity. No 2nd Chances.

As for being here until the end, there is a verse in Revelation that says when Christ returns, we go to be with Him, and on that last day when we meet Jesus in the air, He takes us out of the way of the wrath of God.

Please try to understand, God's wrath is solely for the unbelievers and evil entities of the supernatural unseen realm. We have risen alongside our Lord and King, and we witness this last day from above with Him.

Peter tells us the entire universe will be destroyed, and that includes all the heavens. Jesus told us in John fourteen that He has gone to prepare a place for us, and if He goes, He will return, and He will, on the last day.

The most sobering truth is this. Jesus said there will only be a few who walk the narrow path and are saved. I can plead for all of you reading this to change and make the radical transformation to be what Jesus wants you to be. To be that humble, selfless child of God. But He has declared you will not do so.

Jesus is the truth, and He declared there will be only a few, and so shall it be on that very last day.
